

A speaker's guide to The Expansion Room, live online on Tuesday 17th and Wednesday 18th November 2026.

A room built around conversation

Most business events are built around content delivery, with a speaker on a stage and an audience quietly taking notes. The Expansion Room is built around something different: real conversations between people who are growth-focused, values-led and ready to be stretched to their next stage.

Each speaker delivers a presentation that opens a conversation, which the group then deepens together in breakout rooms. This is where the biggest shifts happen, for the people attending and for the people speaking, because you are exploring your ideas with others who genuinely get it.

We will record your session and add it to The Expansion Room Vault, you can provide a supporting download and CTA link to be added for that as well with actions for those watching on replay to take as they won't have been live for the break out discussions. We will create snippets of your talk to promote your presence in The Expansion Room Vault between events so there is consistent visibility as well for you beyond the event. Your graphics will also be updated to 'available on demand' access inside the vault. At any time if you want your CTA updated you can email us and we can do that too.

How your seat pays for itself

Everyone in The Expansion Room is invested in filling it, which is why we have designed each speaker seat to pay for itself before you ever step onto the stage.

1. You secure your seat with an investment of $600.
2. You complete a short onboarding form, and we create your speaker assets and share them with you, including your own affiliate link.
3. You earn $50 for every ticket sold through your link, and there is no limit on what you can earn.
4. Your earnings are released within 7 to 10 working days once your first 10 tickets are sold, and every $50 after that is released on the same timescale.

Ten tickets through your link brings $500 back to you before the event begins, and every ticket after that is income in your pocket. You also arrive to a room that already holds people who came because of you.

Your invitation from the stage

Rather than a live sales pitch, we ask that your call to action invites people to join you at your next stage, whether that is your community, your own event or your next conversation. The Expansion Room is about sharing our stages and our communities with each other, so that every speaker leaves with new connections as well as new income.

Your next step

If this feels like your room, we would love to hear from you. You can apply for your seat through our short application at expansion-room-speakers.lovable.app. It asks four simple questions:

1. Your name, your business, and where people can find you online.
2. What conversation would you love to open in the room?
3. Who is your community, and how would you invite them to join you at the event?
4. Where would you invite people to join you next, after they have heard you speak?

Once your application is accepted, we will send you your payment link and onboarding form.
